Dome employees face charges

Dome Petroleum Ltd. along with three employees, will be appearing in Drayton Valley provincial court November 7 to face charges.

The charges under the Occupational Health and Safety Act are related to the deaths of two Dome employees on November 22, 1983, Michael McLaughlin of Bluffton and Wesley Kelly of Drayton Valley died after being sent to investigate a sour gas well operated by Dome.

"Dome Petroleum has received a summons to appear in provincial court in Drayton Valley on November 7," according to Neil Samis, a Dome district engineer.

Samis said the company will be appearing in court along with three of its employees to face the charges.

They face 11 safety related charges including failure to ensure the two victims were provided with protective breathing apparatus. The Occupational Health and Safety Act provides for a maximum fine of $15,000 or six months in jail upon conviction.

Halloween

Busy night

The RCMP are hoping for another quiet Halloween in Drayton Valley.

Tomorrow (Thursday) the RCMP will be out while members of the auxiliary and volunteer fire department will be on stand by.

One place that is expected to be hectic will be the Town Kiosken sponsored Halloween Hop at the Bev Plex. The event for children 12 and under is from 6:30 to 9 p.m. More than 325 youngsters attended the event last year.

Earlier in the day, an afternoon Halloween Splash will be held at the Park Valley Pool from 2 to 5:30 p.m. This event will include apple bobbing, spooky riddles, treats and face painting for twenty-five cents.

Schools will also be busy tomorrow with Halloween sponsored events in the afternoon.

Szala resigns handicap post

Bon Szala has resigned as executive director of the Drayton Valley Developmentally Handicap Association.

Szala, who has held the position for the last three years will be leaving the association in mid-December.

"It's time for a change," Szala says. Szala plans to spend more time with his cow-calf operation near Buck Creek and is looking at teaching part time at the consortium. It's been an exciting three years for Szala.

Some of the areas of his job that he enjoyed were the charity auction, the association's new programs and client success.

Expansion is something Szala feels the association has to look at. "There's 12 people on the waiting list. Another residence or two is needed and the Beehive Workshop needs more room," Szala stated.

Coming up with funds for that expansion and finding another executive director will keep the executive busy.

Friday and Saturday

Renovations close Legion

The Royal Canadian Legion in Drayton Valley will be closed all day Friday and Saturday for renovations.

The renovations, which started last Thursday, are part of a $50,000 project.

Changes will see new wall paneling, carpet and new lights, the bar will be re-done, a stained glass divider will be installed between the lounge and the games room, the dance floor is being expanded, the stage will be re-located and the ceiling will be altered.

The renovations, being done by an Edmonton contractor, have been on the drafting board for about eight months. The Legion had hoped to get the job done locally, but they couldn't get anyone.

Cadets selling poppies on weekend

Cadets will be selling poppies in Drayton Valley this Friday and Saturday as part of the annual leg day.

The Royal Canadian Legion, who coordinate the sale of poppies and wreaths, hope to sell between 6,000 and 7,000 poppies during this year's campaign.

Wreaths will start appearing in banks and local businesses this week. If any business would like a wreath they should call the Legion. The poppies have already been distributed to the schools.

Opinions

Business boom provides a healthy atmosphere locally

Developments in Drayton Valley during the summer indicates a healthy business atmosphere.

A check of Western Review files show more than 50 businesses have either opened, moved to a new location which usually involved some expansion, or have undergone some type of renovations.

It doesn't matter which way you look around town...

To the west Amoco and Dome have built new offices and a 24-hour Husky truck stop is on the drafting board for the junction of 50th Avenue and Highway 22. To the east the County of Parkland has announced a $2 million renovation project at the H.W. Pickup school. To the south Turbo opened, both the Westwinds and Black Gold have made changes, Pelican Spruce Mills have made a start on their $25-million mill and Sakura Auctions are working on the completion of a new building. On the north side of town there's the new, improved Drayton Valley Sanitary Landfill site. Downtown has also been active with the new RCMP quarters, work on the new Shell bulk plant and Norcen's new office complex.

Following in the path of what's been happening for several months was last week's announcements. Pizzazz Boutique opened in the Derrick Mall, Valley House of Flowers and Movie Madness moved into a new building on 40th Avenue, the Happy Day Care Centre cut the ribbon at their new facility across from the Elks, Wellhouse Supply held an open house, the Bank of Montreal held open house to introduce their new manager, McGee's had their expansion sale, Brendan New and Used and His N' Hair Design celebrated first anniversaries.

And the list goes on and on..... The announcement by Pelican Spruce Mills, giving the town a second major industry, has spurred a lot of interest. Rumors are flying about possible development as a result.

The Drayton Valley business community is to be commended for the faith they have shown in the future of our town.

It's obvious from the local traffic, that the people like what's happening in Drayton Valley.

Organizers hope Curtola draws big crowd

DV PRESENTS will be looking for everyone's support this Saturday when Bobby Curtola performs, 8 p.m., at the Rec Plex.

The organizers are to be commended for bringing this outstanding talent to our community. While we are all busy, it would be nice to pack the Rec Plex for this show.

And, just in case you were wondering...that's Bobby with one 'b'.

Apparently in his early years Curtola's first name was spelled Bobby, but somewhere along the way he made the switch.

Organizers of the recent oldtimers hockey tournament are to be congratulated for a SUPER effort.

One comment overheard at the arena was "I didn't realize these old guys were so good."

Besides providing an excellent brand of hockey, the organizers brought a lot of business into town.

Editor's Notes

While we're handing out bouquets....a big one for Barbara Schoep, Darle Wirsniuk, Megan Young and Heather McDougall, students at Tomahawk school who covered the recent turkey trail trot for us.

They are members of a newspaper class at the school. We hope to have the other students in the class handle some assignments for The Western Review in future issues.

Blaire Kellough, personal assistant to Pelican Spruce Mills owner Al Owen, visited us last week.

Besides giving us an up-to-date on activities at Drayton Valley's new Sturd-Wood site, Kellough presented me with a Sturd-Wood cap. These green caps will no doubt become very popular in the area in the months ahead.

We're looking forward to the Nov. 20 meeting of the Chamber of Commerce when Owen will be the feature speaker.

Steve Babcock has returned. Babcock, one of our 'people' features, spent his summer on his charter salmon boat at Campbell River, B.C. He will spend the winter working at a sawmill near Lodgepole.

In April he will wed Wendy Reimer of Drayton Valley and they will return to Campbell River to take up permanent residence. Babcock reports a good summer of salmon fishing and thanks all the people in this area who went out on a charter with him.

Who's who

Famous people masks are popular for Halloween

The ghosts and goblins will be emerging tomorrow night as Halloween is here for another year.

But the traditional scary characters will be joined by some rather famous people. This year, along with many past Halloweens, will feature masks of famous figures.

Faces of people like local MP Joe Clark, British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher, American President Ronald Reagan and former Quebec Premier Rene Levesque will be parading the streets. Other famous people or characters to appear on the store shelves with their faces captured in rubber include Kermit the Frog, Laurel and Hardy, and Fozzy Bear.

Lari Whelan, from Isabel's - one of the local stores selling the masks, says the masks are popular because they fit so well. Whelan added that the masks haven't been selling that well yet, but traditionally the rush doesn't start until the last week before Halloween.

Whelan added that a lot of people seem to be opting for make-up rather than masks. Gary Hanson, owner of Penny's, echoed similar statements about make-up.

Hanson said make-up seems to be the most popular form of dressing up for Halloween. Hanson added that the last week before Halloween is also the busiest time for them.

"People seem to wait for the crunch," Hanson explained.

So this year when Halloween rolls around, don't be surprised if Ronald Reagan or Joe Clark appear at the door asking for treats.

Residents thanked

Dear Editor,

We are writing in order to show our appreciation to a couple in our community.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob and Millie Jones went out of their way to show us that hospitality to strangers still exists.

My sister and I were travelling late at night from Calgary to Tomahawk on the Berryman Ferry road when our car got stuck in the mud. Walking up to an unknown house and waking up strangers in the middle of the night is not something you feel entirely safe in doing.

However, Millie and Bob Jones went out of their way to help us. They put us up for the night and made us feel welcome. In the morning, they arranged for a tow and made sure we were safely on our way.

It isn't often that you come across such genuine hospitality. Bob and Millie Jones proved that the story of "The Good Samaritan" holds true.

A hearty thanks to Bob and Millie Jones of Drayton Valley.

Sincerely,
Cathy and Terry Campbell,
Calgary, AB.

Letters

Public may be confused

Dear Editor,

I wish to clarify and expand upon your article regarding the arming of our Auxiliary Police.

This article ran two weeks ago (Oct. 9) and may have left the public confused about the powers and roles associated with the Auxiliary Police Program.

Auxiliary members have status under the Alberta Police Act as special constables for the purpose of enforcing the Criminal Code and provincial statutes within the province of Alberta. While under the immediate supervision of the RCMP, they have the same powers as that of a police officer. While their role is somewhat limited to assisting regular members in their duties, their powers are not.

Thank you,
C.J.E. Lee (Call Drayton Valley Dept.)

Successful clinic

Dear Editor,

On behalf of Red Cross Blood Donor Recruitment, may I say "thanks again" to the volunteer spirit that supported the second clinic in 1985 in Drayton Valley.

The donation of the hall by the Legion, the serving of refreshments by the OORP, the volunteer workers, and the various means of advertising that alerted you, the volunteer donor, to come out and keep the blood flowing, enabled a pleased Red Cross staff to register 191 donors, with 16 deferrals and return to Edmonton with 175 units at a time when blood supplies were desperately low, especially O negative.

The last time Drayton Valley came close was in April '76 when 198 donors registered and 171 units were collected.

Once again "thank you" volunteers for your support.

Sincerely,
Hy Dahl

Shangri-La Lodge prepares for bazaar

Dear Editor,

I think the local newspaper is improving all the time with good coverage on the Stanley Cup, all the big and little kids coveting on the ice and the fields of Canada, this great nation of ours, stretching from Cape Breton, the Bay of Fundy, Newfoundland and the great west - Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia.

We are like a great chain, only as strong as the weakest link. Though things are expensive now, we must continue to do lots of positive thinking and "lift ourselves up with our own boot straps," as they might say in the logging industry. I am thinking of the drive out to U.I.C. (Marine Drive).

We must remember we have another fine university, Simon Fraser in Burnaby and all the lower mainland from New Westminster and the Pattullo Bridge to the Lars Gate Bridge, stretching from Vancouver to west and north Vancouver ferries which carried many hundreds of happy passengers.

I think one of the most beautiful parts of the north shore is Lynn Canyon Park with the suspension bridge across the Capilano River. There was lots of conversation for the tourist and excellent fishing and hunting - a great camera country.

I was recently at a meeting in the Elks Hall, fathered by the World Home Bible League. A tremendous array of captivating speakers and some great witnessing. I was impressed and came away feeling somewhat guilty of some of my short comings. We are all human, except the Man Upstairs, Jesus Christ, who died without sin for all mankind.

We at the Shangri-La Lodge are preparing for the annual Christmas Bazaar and I hope as many as possible will attend to compensate for the thousands of painstaking hours put in by everyone here: Carl Anderson, Mary Bustin, Albert Schenk, John and Mary Ayotte, John Birs, Long John, Alex Tillis, Sophie Inza, Martha, the two Mabels, big and little, the suppliers of Perflex bottles, John Joyce, Frank Gibney, and last, but not least, the churches - Lutheran, Roman Catholic, Jehovah Witnesses, the United Church, Church of God and the Canadian Bible Society.

Let's have a sane Halloween with as little waste as possible. There are millions overseas needing our help.

We have all these beautiful people at BGA Skyrise, Valley House of Light and all those gnomes that will be out full force on Halloween.

Yours truly
(Bruce Howard)

Bob

Bob Curtola will sing many hits.

Curtola performs in Rec Plex

Bob Curtola has a fun evening planned for his Saturday night show in Drayton Valley.

Curtola, Canada's first major rock star, is the major attraction at the DV Presents 8 p.m. show at the Rec Plex.

Our show will reflect back to the good old days and we'll play some new music, Curtola said Monday from his acreage near Sparrow Grove.

Some of Curtola's hits during a career include "Hand in Hand With You," "Fortune Teller," "Call Me Baby," "Hitchhiker," "Aladdin," "My Christmas Tree," "Indian Giver," "Three Rivers Over," "Mean Womyn Blues," "Walkie With My Angel" and "Indian Love Call." The Thunder Bay, Ontario native who has lived in the Edmonton area since 1975, has done 48 singles and 20 LPs.

Besides his records, Curtola is busy with the commercial market, singing up a storm for the 16-A store. He was also the first artist in North America to record a single that sounded like a hit record. He won the single award for North America singing "Things Go Better With Coke."

Because of his work in the recording field, especially on the U.S. market, Curtola dropped one of the '1s' out of his first name this year. "I want to come out of the chute with something different than the other Bobbys," Curtola admits.

While he has visited Drayton Valley before, this will be his first opportunity to perform. His Saturday performances will include many of his tunes, dancing and he will also be available to sign some autographs.

Joseph Miller, a Grade 10 student at Frank Maddock High School in Drayton Valley, recently attended a five-day multicultural peace camp at Seba Beach.

Miller comes from an interesting background. His mother is American, his father is Irish. They have lived in Drayton Valley three and a half years, previously they lived in Denmark for 10 years.

Joseph Miller attends FMBS

Miller, one of 18 students from across Alberta, was chosen to attend this multicultural camp because of his background and academic ability. The camp was sponsored by York's Ch As Centre, Seba Beach School and Seba Beach Students' Union.

Mr. Turnbull, principal of Seba Beach School, pays coordinator of the program. The students studied for five days three areas of importance—multiculturalism, energy, peace.

The purpose was to bring together 30 students in Grades 9-12 from various parts of the province and representing many of the cultural and ethnic groups to be found within the province. The students were placed in a retreat atmosphere where they could consider their views on selected world and local problems of relevance to them without the restraints imposed by normal daily life.

Also to provide the students with the necessary resources and activities to enable them to focus on the three strands of the guiding theme suggested by the United Nations program: participation, development and peace.

The first session was multiculturalism; learning about other cultures and how immigrants have an impact on Canada. The purpose was to create an understanding between cultures and appreciate the difference. Miller mentioned that one of their activities was Inuit games.

They toured the Keweenaw and Sundance plants and obtained general knowledge of today's energy needs.

The final focus was on peace. This was instructed by Bob Macintosh and Wally Heintzsch, teachers at H.W. Pickup. The purpose of this discussion was not to scare the students into fearing nuclear war, but to give them the knowledge so that they knew what could happen and a solution so that it doesn't happen.

Miller met a student, Joshua Sears, from Lethbridge, who campaigned in his school to make the school and grounds around it a nuclear free zone. He would like to see this happen to Frank Maddock and H.W. Pickup.

This seems like such a trivial thing, but if every school took a vote in favor of this, it would have a rippling effect. Manitoba has declared itself a nuclear free province. Perhaps in a few years Alberta will do the same.

Miller recommended the camp to everyone, especially the young people who are confused about the destruction of the world. He said it would give them something to think about and hope that they can do something about nuclear disarmament.

Sundae delight

Students in Kelly Brattenhah's class at H.W. Pickup Junior High School in Drayton Valley dig into a trough full of ice cream sundaes. It was their reward for finishing first in the school's recent magazine-sales campaign. The trough set up in the gym drew a big crowd of hungry onlookers.

SCHOOL NOTEBOOK

The magazine campaign at H.W. Pickup Junior High resulted approximately $350 for the school.

Tomorrow for Halloween students at H.W. Pickup will be involved in a dance from 1 to 4 p.m.

A school planned event will be held tomorrow (Halloween) at Elementary II school from noon to 3:30 p.m. in the gym. A good assortment of fun and games is being planned.

Elementary II staff are continuing the program of accounting for the whereabouts of all absent students. Parent participation is a must if this program is to be successful. If a student is going to be absent, the parent is asked to call the school. And, if the school is not notified, the parent will be called at work or at home.

The Edmonton on Opera Company will be performing the "Mikado" at Elementary II on Nov. 8.

It's part of the many professional performances the school has arranged for the students. Earlier this month Foothills Brass visited a number of schools in the area.

Parents can look forward to the first report card from Elementary II on Nov. 12.

Parent teacher conferences will be held Nov. 21 and 22 at Elementary II.

Schools will be closed on Monday, Nov. 11—Remembrance Day.

School children are being urged to attend the town-sponsored Halloween party (Thursday) from 6:30 to 9 p.m. in the Frank Maddock High School Rec Plex. This event is being coordinated by the town and the Kiwanis Club. More than 253 children attended the first event last year. The cost is $2 per child.

Midget opener

Busy night for scorekeeper

By Frank Ryan

Scorekeeper Kathy Pokoluk was the busiest person at the Drayton Valley Hockey Clippers midget 11-league opener last Saturday night at the Centennial Civic Arena.

Pokoluk recorded three pages of penalties as the Clippers dropped a 13-2 decision to visiting Sylvan Lake.

Referee Dale Schwab was also busy as he handed out 30 penalties to the Clippers and 26 to Sylvan Lake in the contest.

Shane Foley led the Lakers with a four goal effort as they held period leads of 11 and 9-2. Wayne Dolbe had two goals for Sylvan with Larry Gray scoring both goals for the Clippers.

Randel Reimer started behind the pipes for the Clippers but left with 351 remaining in the opening period with his club trailing 4-1. Dallas McLeod came on in relief and pulled off some big glove saves late in the game to stop the score from going any higher.

A Sylvan Lake player hoes the puck as he tries to go around the Clipper goalie.

Minor ball looking at changing the ages

Age changes and more co-operation are the two priorities of the local minor ball association. According to minor ball president Mike McDowell, those items will be discussed at the Alberta Baseball Association meeting on November 3 in St. Albert.

McDowell said that the local contingent at the meeting will be pushing for age changes similar to those in hockey. He added they will be also voicing their concerns about the co-operation level with teams that win the provincial.

Last summer the local bantam team, the Andes Oilers, won the provincials but encountered several problems in traveling and plane fares to the Western Canadian championships.

McDowell, along with Jack Hutchinson and George Berquist, will represent Drayton Valley at the annual meeting.

Rough weekend for Blades

The Blades opened up their 1985-86 campaign with a loss in the Rocky Rockets in Junior B action on Friday in Drayton Valley.

The Rockets scored at 2:37 of the first overtime period to win the game 4-3.

Coach Simon Kelly said it "was a tough way to lose."

Kelly explained the puck took a bad bounce, catching their defencemen flatfooted and the Rocky player went in to score on the partial breakaway in overtime.

"Dance Carleton (Blades' goaltender) had an excellent game," Kelly added.

Rocky scored first in the contest but Blades' Sheldon Dunham evened it up mid-way through the first period before Chad Allen put Drayton Valley up 2-1. Rocky scored twice to take a 3-2 lead into the third and with about seven minutes remaining Doug Bacon tied it up to force the overtime.

All three of the Blades' goals came on the powerplay with both teams taking 15 penalties. Drayton Valley picked up its only league points of the weekend schedule when Barhead couldn't see enough players for the Saturday game in Drayton Valley.

On Sunday the Blades travelled to Rimley and lost 8-3. Blair Shimshaki, Chad Allen and Grant McLean replied for the Blades in a losing cause. They trailed 2-0 after one period and 6-1 after two periods of play. Drayton Valley took 12 penalties in the game and Rimley had 21.

Coach Kelly pointed out that they have been reducing the number of penalty minutes in each game.

"Morris (Seifering) and I aren't worried," Kelly explained.

He added the players "put in a really good effort" in both games and they all played "really well."

Kelly pointed out that five of their players are midgets and most of the other guys are new.

The Blades have three games this weekend with Hinton on Sunday Friday and Saturday for 8:15 p.m. games. On Sunday the locals travel to Barhead.

National finals rodeo goes at Edmonton's Northlands

The professional rodeo spotlight shined on the Edmonton Northlands Coliseum Nov. 13-17 as Canada's finest cowboys compete for the coveted Canadian Championship title in the 12th year event.

In its 12th year, Canada's largest indoor rodeo, the Canadian Finals Rodeo, will wrap up its 1988 pro rodeo season with the best of the best. The finalists in each of the nine events will compete more than six go-rounds, with the contestant earning the most points declared the champion of Canada.

These professional cowboys have battled hard all season to gain a berth at the Canadian Finals. They've proven their worth by beating their many competitors, the rough stock and the thousands of miles required to gain enough dollars to be ranked in the top 16.

It has only been in the past few years that rodeo has gained recognition as a truly professional sport. Through cash and prize incentives provided by major sponsors, the quality of rodeo has become better and better.

The sport of rodeo has a universal appeal to fans and newcomers from all walks of life. The western spirit and friendliness that flows between competitor and fan is difficult to match in any other sport.

The Canadian Finals Rodeo is produced by the Canadian Finals Rodeo Company, a partnership between the Canadian Professional Rodeo Association (CPRA) and Edmonton's Northlands. The Commission receives further major sponsorship and support from 300,000 viewers and 1,000 exhibitors plus further assistance from Wrangler, Dodge Trucks and Fardie Western Artisan.

The Canadian Finals Rodeo is held in conjunction with Northlands Fair and '88 and Northlands Country and Western Exposition. From Nov. 7-30 Northlands Agricom will host Fair and '88, which features nearly 3,000 head of the top Western Canadian bred livestock during numerous shows and sales. In its second year, Northlands Country and Western Exposition, Nov. 11-18, in Hall B of Northlands Agricom brings together products and services for cattle and horse owners, arrange owners and hobby farmers. Adding a cultural touch to the ongoing events is the Western Art Show and Sale, Nov. 13-18 in sales 2 of Northlands Agricom where top artists will display and sell their work.

Tickets for the Canadian Finals Rodeo are now on sale at all RAS outlets in Edmonton and at Northlands Coliseum box office. Telephone credit card orders can be made by calling (516) 880-0000. Information and group sales should call (516) 337-1373.

Local couple are married

Marriage vows were exchanged on Oct. 12 at the Drayton Valley United Church when Rev. Bob Aldrich united Bonnie Melnick and Dennis Melnick in holy matrimony.

Bonnie entered the church on the arm of her father looking radiant in her white chignon gown with lace-trimmed bodice and sleeves. Her hat of chantilly lace and seed pearls complemented her veil with chantilly lace trim.

Bonnie carried a bouquet of pink roses and ranunculus.

Trish Melnyk, mother of the bride and Cheryl Kalschak, bridesmaid, both sisters of the bride, wore matching pink gowns, white lace gloves and were trailing white flowers and pearls in their hair. They carried white nooks with pink carnations.

Larry Popping, uncle of the groom, looked lovely in her pink lace layered gown. Larry carried a basket of pink roses and baby's breath.

Dennis looked very handsome in his choice of a white tuxedo with matching bow tie and cummerbund. His boutonniere was a single pink rose and bud.

Mary Harker, bestman, and Curtis Drueger, groomsmen, both friends of the groom, wore grey tuxedos with matching bow ties and cummerbunds.

Gwen Melnyk and Fay Kalschak lit candles signifying the birth of their children. Bonnie and Dennis placed in the centre marriage candle, sealing their life in one together.

Paul Bullock, cousin of the groom and Dean Mayer, cousin of the bride, were ushers.

Tatiree A. Jenkins, friend of the bride, played the beautiful wedding music.

Garry Blalock, uncle of the groom, is master of ceremonies.

Dale Keller, Bonnie's uncle, gave the toast to the bride.

Lindale dancers raise money

Last Thursday Lindale School held a dance to raise money for UNICEF, part of a 'dance-a-thon' students work wide for this purpose.

Students went into the community to gather pledges for the dance and had 150 children sign up to four hours on the dance floor.

More than $150 was raised. Pledges on the dance floor and at a concession booth sponsored by volunteers of the Lindale Home and School Association. The parents of the association were generous enough to donate all the profits of the evening's work to the UNICEF cause.

Nine or 10 grade 10 girls danced for the full four hours and since handbells raised $35. Others who lasted the four hours were: Brian die Olson, Sandra Winchester, Redger Shipton, Troy Davidson and Dean Olson.

The president of the Student's Council, Anita Bryant, organized the dance at the end of the year with the help of Grade 7, 8 and 9 students. It has even begun filled balloons and other decorations were made and a disco hall and spotlight were rented from Lighting by Monty in Edmonton. All of these proved to be a great hit with everyone concerned dancers and parents.

Chris Bopp, an ex student of Lindale, donated hours of his time to run the music for the dance assisted by Ms. Murphy of the school staff.

Big fine for theft of truck

A Red Deer man was fined $1250 and given one year's probation after pleading guilty to theft in Drayon Valley provincial court last Thursday.

Court heard that on March 2, 1985, Craig
Goffrich stole a truck
from a farmer's yard near Humber. The 1976
Ford Bullitt was later recovered in the parking lot of a Red Deer hotel.

where Goffrich was staying.

Court also heard that when police originally questioned him he denied taking the vehicle but later admitted he had.

Justice R.L. Dymek fined him $1250 for stealing the truck and another $450 for reckless driving a year of revocation of the parking lot when the investigation started.

The Franks, Maddock High school grad, was killed Nov. 17 when he was arrested in a robbery by a truck on Hwy 1.

(p) Tom Turner of the Drayon Valley RCMP says it has been held with the Alberta Law of Crime & Justice (ALCJ) in relationship to the crime, and the fact he was in a low level on the scene prior to his death.

The ALCJ is a new law that is in force from now. The incident before him is an investigation. Turner also confirms that an autopsy has been completed, however, the results will not be made public.

To appear December 12

Engel pleads not guilty to two charges

Sunny Engel will stand trial on December 12 on charges of resisting arrest and obstruction.

The 30-year-old Drayton Valley farmer appeared briefly in Drayton Valley provincial court last Thursday and was ordered to appear in December. Engel pleaded not guilty to both charges before Judge R.L. Deneau.

The charges stem from an incident at Engel's farm in September. Engel was arrested by RCMP and spent a night in jail after he allegedly refused to leave his farm, located about 12 miles north of Drayton Valley.

He was being forced to leave after the Alberta Agriculture Development Corporation (AADC) foreclosed on the farm when Engel couldn't make payments on a $200,000 loan. Engel had borrowed the money to build a 4,700-square-foot hog barn that now stands unfinished.

Outside the courtroom Engel told The Western Review he has been living in Edmonton with his daughter since being evicted. He added that he has been trying to rent a place in or around Drayton Valley but people refuse to rent to him.

"I do feel I have AIDS or the Black Plague," he said of his plight to find a place to live or work.

"We've made our home here for the last five years, why not stay here," he said of his desire to remain in the area.

Crisis line open next week

The long-awaited Drayton Valley Crisis Line opens for calls next week.

Calls will be accepted from 4 p.m. on Thursday, Nov. 7 through Monday, Nov. 11 at 4 p.m.

The Crisis Line number is 542-5445.

According to organizer Jim Wolff, calls will be taken by volunteers during what is believed to be peak times. This schedule, from Thursday through Monday will continue for six weeks. Then the service will be evaluated.

The AADC recently held an open house at the former Engel farm but Engel said he didn't attend. He added that members of the farm survival group, that were at his farm when the incident occurred, did attend the open house.

Engel's wife, who was in hospital at the time of the event, has since been released and is staying with him in Edmonton. His son continues to live with friends in Tomahawk.

For several weeks now volunteers have undergone a training period. If you're interested in working on the Crisis Line, contact Jim Wolff.

The front of a 1984 calendar produced by Dorothy Willows.

Former journalist now making calendars in Buck Lake

By Lorne Christensen
For Dorothy Willows taking the photos is the easy part.
The editing the Buck Lake calendar is the hard work. It's a lot of pictures, she says, but she has a good eye for what she needs. She says she's working with a lot of people, but she's the one who's making the calendar.

Willows shows her fourth picture in the 1984 calendar that has just finished being printed.

Her pictures come mostly from the Buck Lake area here she snaps a shot from inside her horse barn.

dar from about 40 photographs that have been picked from the more than 500 shots she has taken. I've got at least 10 of them done for next year," Willows explains.

She adds she tries to take events, but has not in certain months but sometimes has a picture in mind.

The first calendar of the year was printed last year and 10,000 copies of the 2000 printed were sold. This year she also had 2,000 copies printed but is hoping to get more.

Last year I sold at least 100 copies and I think I made very much profit.

The profit is made in many ways, she adds. Willows, who is a professional seller of calendars through a mail order business, rather than having to distribute them to stores on commission, as she does now.

Last fall I'll be making money from last year's sales.

The calendars are being distributed mostly from the area between Edmonton to Calgary, but she has had orders from people in England and Quebec that have seen her calendars.

People really like them for gifts, she points out.

Willows says she does most of the production of the calendars, including picking the best styles, editing and printing.

I would like to do more of it if I had more equipment," says the graduate of York University College's journalism program.

Willows, who worked for the University of Alberta newspaper and a British Columbia newspaper, says she won't be taking a break from work. But for now all she has to do is work with her Minolta will have to have a way to be developed.

But producing the calendars is not easy, as it was said as Willows points out.

Sometimes it gets pretty discouraging this time of year when I still have all 2000 calendars.

Health unit

Vaccine recommended free to elderly

Alberta West Central Health Unit has received its supply of influenza vaccine for 1985.

It is recommended that the vaccine be administered, free of charge, to the elderly and to people with certain medical conditions namely chronic heart disease, chronic lung disease, kidney disease, anaemia or an immunodeficient condition.

Immunization will be provided to those people under 65 with any of the above conditions, provided their physician is in agreement. It is not recommended that the vaccine be provided to healthy adults or children nor for any particular occupational group. Over 85's do not need a prescription. Once again the vaccine is trivalent containing strains of viruses

A Chile, A Philippines and USSR which will provide protection against the viruses of influenza which is expected this winter.

For immunization should be administered by the end of November so please contact your local health unit office for more details.

HELPFUL HINTS FOR PARENTS
 When your child becomes restless while waiting at the clinic:

1. Before your child's visit to the doctor or dentist, take a trip to the library and check out a book not read before. It could be a favorite subject.

2. Colored paperclips can be strung together to make a necklace, belt, bracelet or small wall hanging. The child can assemble the clips almost anywhere — waiting for the doctor, riding in the car. Finishing touches such as bits of old jewelry, wood, glitter, feathers can be added at home with help from an older brother or sister. Need ideas for a hobby? Try your library's crafts section.

Parents need a break from their children

By Patricia Milet
Director of Family and Community Support Services
Edmonton, Alt.

All parents need the occasional break from their children.

You could go farther and say the occasional break from children allows you to be a better parent, but work and a household full of noisy, mischievous, and sometimes angry children is a full-time job.

With a few scheduled days, you should be able to find time to relax and recharge your batteries. However, if you are not sure you can do this, work with a professional to help you find a way to get a good rest.

If you are a parent in a family with a child who has a chronic illness, you may find it difficult to get a break. In these cases, you may want to consider a respite care program. This is a program where a professional caregiver comes to your home to care for your child for a short period of time. This allows you to get a break from your child and recharge your batteries.

Council News

The county is offering a defensive driving course to municipal employees driving county vehicles. The course will absorb a $22 course fee with the course to be taken on the employees' own time.

The county is looking at a petition signed by Blueberry area residents to have the old Blueberry school designated a historic building.

A proposal to stabilize the road through Violet Grove as a result of the installation of a sewer line has been carried over to the 1986 road program.

Authorization has been given in principle to improve the ventilation system at the county shops in Drayton Valley. However a similar request for the shop at Stony Plain has been delayed due to cost reports.

A letter was received from a Rocky Rapids resident over his driveway being blocked during recent street repairs. Council didn't take an action on the letter.

Council has okayed a bylaw authorizing the borrowing on a short term loan basis the sum of $60,000 to finance construction of the fire hall and public works facilities at Tomahawk.

Two other bylaws were also passed in the amount of $325,000 to finance the industrial arts modernization and $1,565,700 to finance a centre and lobby add-on to the H.W. Perkins school in Drayton Valley.

Paving halted

Drayton Valley's paving program will not be completed this year. The final road to 50th Avenue from the Elks Hall west to the highway and 80th Street, in front of Dun Petroleum and Trans Canada will be held until the summer.

The weather is being blamed for the delay. Border Paving has some little jobs to complete in the next week before leaving.

Meanwhile, all the sidewalk construction the town had planned was done.
